

http://lawprofessors.typepad.com/law\_librarian\_blog/2012/01/top-ten-evidence-issues-for-2012-and-2011.html

Last Consulted: January 24, 2012

« "There is a separate language in each of us." | Main | Content Analysis of SCOTUS Confirmation Hearings: Nominee Candor from Harlan to Kagan »

January 12, 2012

Top Ten Evidence Issues for 2012 and 2011 (Could provide issues for ALR assignments)

For litigators at the federal trial level, is there anything more important than evidence issues? Federal Evidence Blog has published two posts covering Top Ten Evidence Issues for 2012 and 2011, retrospective and prospective. After assigning the 2011 recap analysis, the 2012 issues could make for good advanced legal research assignments. [JH]

January 12, 2012 in Current Affairs, Legal Research Instruction, New Publications | Permalink